Beneath the Spire...

WHERE THERE IS A VISION . . .

I love telling the story of how our 2015 Vision Statement came to fruition. It was this past May and our Session was hunkered down at Davidson College Presbyterian Church one beautiful Saturday afternoon for our Annual Session Retreat. Art Ross, my pastoral coach and our Session's consultant, was leading a discussion on how, as the spiritual leaders of the church, our Session is tasked with honoring the past while leading forward into the future. And as the sun shone through the large windows of the church's Congregation House, it was as if the light revealed exactly what our elders needed to see...

Over the next few months, through follow-up meetings and numerous emails, the members of the 2014 Session created a bold vision for the coming year – one that lays out why what we do matters, as well as what we plan to do. As someone who has gone through this process with other churches, I was struck by how well the group coalesced around the task at hand and how quickly the vision materialized. What this tells me is that this vision had already been there for some time, waiting for the right moment to be tapped into and revealed. Indeed, God is good!

For months since, I have been telling you how proud I am of the Session and the strength of their leadership, which is absolutely crucial for any church desiring to move forward. But what I want to make clear is that I not only support the Session, I support their vision as well. In my opinion, it is a perfect blend of continuing meaningful traditions and ministries while being very intentional about pursuing new initiatives that match well with our congregations' culture. The plan to eliminate the budgeted deficit in four years is a particularly bold but very necessary goal that thrills me to the core. I've shared this vision statement with many ministerial colleagues of mine, and they agree – this is the sign of a strong session and a strong church, and a God who is in the midst of doing great things with both.

There is nothing in this vision that is too much of a reach; too “out there” for us to attain. At the same time, there is much in this vision that cannot be realized if we as a congregation simply maintain our normal levels of giving and support. Make no mistake: this vision will require a lot of us. It will require us to become “generous givers” in our time, talents and treasure. But this vision is undoubtedly worth our individual and collective efforts to bring to fruition – of this, your Session and I are convinced. If there has ever been a time in Trinity's history for something like this to take place, it is now.

As I shared in the Montreat worship service, I love that our church refers to the conclusion of our Stewardship journey as “Response Sunday.” The language makes the correct theological assertion that God has acted first – in this particular case, providing our spiritual leaders with a vision for the coming year. Thus, it is our turn to respond. And my hope and prayer is that, if you haven’t already as part of our worship service, you will in the coming days.

We have a vision, my friends – and where there is a vision, the people most certainly flourish. And for that, thanks be to God!

Always your pastor and friend,

Steve

EQUIP

Personnel, Finance,
Capital Campaign,
Buildings & Grounds

We believe in providing a solid, consistent and comprehensive foundation for the church as it seeks to worship, study and serve. We will strive to effectively and faithfully manage our resources of people, treasure (our financial support) and our physical plant. We will support Trinity’s mission by sustaining our infrastructure, while at the same time responding proactively to inevitable change.

With your support and with God’s blessing, in 2015 we will:

- Continue faithful stewardship of our Capital Campaign as it relates to the buildings and campus;
- Make the successful transition from a temporary associate pastor position to a permanent and called associate pastor position;
- Begin a four-year effort to balance annually generated income with annual expenses;
- Actively work toward growing the endowment and increasing its positive impact on the overall mission of the church; and
- Actively work to address specifically identified smaller capital projects and begin to establish a reserve for major repairs.

GROW

Christian Education, Youth,
Worship, Membership,
Congregational Care

We believe in rooting people in the living story of the Christian faith by fostering community among those who strive to grow through worship, study and service, and to live as God’s faithful people. We believe in telling the story in a way that transforms us so we may be open to each other, care for one another, and worship with music and poetry – all of which enhances our relationship with God and with each other.

With your support and with God’s blessing, in 2015 we will:

- Create a comprehensive Sunday School ministry that includes a variety of adult learning opportunities and church-wide fellowship;
- Grow our youth ministry by expanding youth mission experiences during the annual congregational retreat at Montreat and providing summer conference opportunities for our middle schoolers;
- Implement a comprehensive new member ministry that involves informal gatherings and New Member Sundays to integrate new members into the overall life of the church;
- Continue to expand our church’s communication via our new website and the use of the Constant Contact Program; and
- Create a new proactive care and comfort ministry with our new Parish Associate Minister.

SERVE

Events, Mission & Outreach,
Stewardship, Weekday School

We believe in putting our Christian faith into action - being not only believers in Jesus but followers of Jesus. We believe in a faith that “reaches out” both within our church and outside its walls, seeking to enlarge the embrace of Christian love and practice. Through serving our God, we unite and inspire God’s people to love, to be disciples and to give back to God what we have received from God.

With your support and with God’s blessings, in 2015 we will:

- Share Trinity’s campus to further develop our many outreach programs, including Room in the Inn, Freedom School, and Friendship Garden, that utilize the talents of our members;
- Coordinate and implement a multigenerational service project to foster a greater sense of Trinity’s mission;
- Host at least two events on our campus geared toward the surrounding neighborhood and larger community;
- Maintain and grow the Weekday School ministry by focusing on our surrounding neighborhood, increasing enrollment and engaging existing families so they feel more connected to our church programs;
- Provide the opportunity for participation in meaningful acts of stewardship, while offering a variety of new legacy gift options to help fund our ministries; and
- Continue to learn about Trinity’s impact on individual members of all ages through their shared personal stories.

IMPACT STORY - Keeley O'Keefe

One Sunday per month during the worship hour congregation members share an "Impact Story". Please find below Keeley O'Keefe's story shared September 21.

Every week before church, our youth group meets for Sunday School. Each Sunday brings a new lesson and a new breakfast. The Bojangles biscuits or muffins are always a favorite and are demolished quickly. It's awesome to have a place where no one judges you for eating that second muffin or the third biscuit. When 6:00 rolls around, our youth group comes back together to eat dinner, laugh with friends and play a game like Stackers. We all leave our phones and car keys on the table as we walk in, unplugging for the short hour and a half.

Every summer, our Youth group travels to a city in the United States, but out of North Carolina. Mission trips are the best. I get to see a totally different way of life, a side I knew existed in my head, but had never seen in my world of south Charlotte. Through the trips, I learned that a life can change in the blink of an eye. When we worked in Atlanta, Denver and San Antonio through DOOR, I met new people, each with their own story, their own experience, their own life. Last year in Denver, all the participating youth were given a challenge. Each youth member and advisor was given a dollar and two hours. With the money we had, we had to buy our dinner. Andy Tong, George King, Brent and I walked down the streets brainstorming ideas for what we could buy with four dollars. We ended up with two cans of soup and a pack of tortillas.

Coming out of the store, we noticed two homeless men sitting on the edge of the park, prompting Brent to ask if we really needed the tortillas. We gave them to the man who calls himself the Avatar and listened as he told us about how he was an English major before dropping out to care for his sick mother. From the Avatar's story, I realized how one seemingly inconsequential decision can have devastating effects, but also what people are willing to go through for their family.

One of the best parts of the mission trip, is being able to really get to know the people I live with for a week, either in a house, in a gym or the basement of a Mennonite church. You get to know people when you live with them for a week. You learn their sleeping habits, whether or not they snore, how long it takes them to shower or get dressed, and so many other things. Waiting in the shower line brought out some interesting conversation and the excitement for the next year as Ellie and I moved on up through the ranks.

Through games of Egyptian Rat Slap at eleven o'clock or hacky sack or mattress surfing on the gym floor, I got to know our youth group much better than I ever thought I would. No matter what, I always know that I will always have the friends that I made on these trips.

Doctor Brent, our resident hacky sack surgeon, gives his signature "Talks" on everything from the purposes of highway lanes to Gatorade versus water, to seatbelts saving lives. Brent has them all. All of these "Talks" have given me real world, practical knowledge. I will always know that the right lane is for merging and trucks, the middle lane is for cruising and the left lane is for passing thanks to these "Talks".

Trinity and the congregation have been a special part of my life from day one. I grew up here and Trinity has given me a safe place where I can be myself, knowing I will be accepted for who I am.

Where There is a Vision, the People Flourish!

You will have no doubt read or heard this sentiment many times during this - Trinity's 2015 - Stewardship season. You will have received a mailing containing an introductory letter from the Stewardship Campaign Co-Chairs, Lynette Neel and Phil Blount, a 2015 pledge card and a brochure detailing the Vision Statements created by the Session Cluster Groups.

Indeed, Trinity Presbyterian Church began as a vision; a vision in the 1940s of a forward thinking group of Christian leaders. A vision of a new church "somewhere way out Providence Road."

And, as was so artfully described in the letter from Lynette Neel and Phil Blount: "Trinity is still here, still hopeful and vibrant, because generations of members had a vision for this faith community."

And, I submit to you, because generations of members have carried on that vision of Trinity as the House of God and their spiritual home. Here, babies are baptized, children are instructed and confirmed in the faith, persons united in marriage, and mourners comforted. Here, from divergent paths, we come to pray for God's blessing and to give thanks for His tender mercies.

All those generations of members of Trinity Presbyterian Church who have gone before believed - really believed - in that 1940s vision and supported Trinity with financial commitments, large and small, week in and week out, year in and year out, decade in and decade out.

Their faithful and generous support was made, to again quote Lynette and Phil, not "out of duty, obligation, or guilt; these motivations do not sustain a church." At least, not for 60 plus years. Rather, the faithful and generous support of Trinity by all who were and are blessed to be a part of this community of faith has been made freely, with love and gratitude and joy.

Join us as we journey on into the next, new, exciting chapters in the life of Trinity Presbyterian Church. Join us in support of the vision statements so clearly detailed by the Session Cluster Groups. Join us with your time, your talent, and with your renewed financial commitment to this, our church home.

The Spirit Moved Us...

Those of you who were in the Fellowship Hall for Sunday School on September 28, heard our Haitian guest Pastor Actionnel Fleurisma and his wife, Yolande, begin the morning, in their native French, singing The Battle Hymn of the Republic. And after that first refrain, you too joined in the refrains that followed, singing boldly. And those of you who were in the church service heard Pastor Fleurisma’s sermon about Moses and the Good Samaritan acting boldly when they saw injustices.

Pastor Fleurisma’s story compels us to be bold in Bayonnais, an impoverished area of subsistence farmers high in the mountains of Haiti. We can be bold by joining this ongoing, Haitian led mission. Haitians in Bayonnais are creating hope by breaking the bonds of Voodoo, fighting starvation with improved nutrition, expanding educational opportunities and initiating community-based health care.

Over the next weeks and months interested Trinity members, under the direction of the Mission and Outreach Committee, will consider ways to form a relationship with Organization of the Force for Christ in Bayonnais Ministries (OFCB). At this point the Mission and Outreach Committee has designated a line item to support a teacher in the Bayonnais schools. The amount of support Trinity can provide will depend on the generosity of our pledges.

Actionnel Fleurisma invited us to come to Bayonnais to see what is happening. In January we have an opportunity to join a mission trip planned by South Mecklenburg Presbyterian Church. If you are interested in details about this trip, please contact Terry Vardell at 704.364.8449. More information will be forthcoming about activities of OFCB, ways to become involved, and its impact on the lives of individuals and families in Bayonnais.

“GIFTS TO THE MANGER”

The Mission and Outreach Committee is focusing this Advent season on several organizations and programs that have specific needs during Christmas. The following five opportunities for giving will be familiar since you have been so gracious and generous in previous years. We hope you and your family will share in the joy of bringing “Gifts to the Manger”. Please place your new and unwrapped gifts in the designated display boxes in the Cloister.

Alexander Youth Network -

Each year, Alexander serves over 5,700 children with, or at high risk of, serious emotional and behavioral problems often induced by neglect or abuse. A majority of the “kids of Alexander” come from low-income homes, some are separated from their natural families, and many live in the care of therapeutic foster parents. Alexander’s Angel Network provides Trinity with a way to make these children’s holiday special. All items should be new, unwrapped and delivered to collection boxes in the Cloister, with card attached. Deadline for donations is December 3.

Needs: Look in the Cloister for a small tree with card ornaments carrying a specific request from a child. General donations are also welcome.

Thompson Child & Family

Focus – Wish List –

Thompson provides dormitories and group housing for children that are displaced from home due to abuse and mental problems within their families. Trinity’s congregation brings love and joy to these children by donating one gift for each child. Please bring your gift to the office by December 11. Please note: do not wrap gift and tape the card to the package.

Needs: There will be a board in the Cloister with display cards describing specific items/gifts.

Emergency Winter Shelter - provides winter shelter, food, and referrals to various social services in the Charlotte area.

Needs: Men's underwear, socks, warm coats, sweaters, gloves, blankets, pillows, towels, and washcloths.

“Therefore, as God’s chosen people, holy and dearly loved, clothe yourselves with compassion, kindness, humility, gentleness and patience.”
Colossians 3:12

Room in the Inn – Trinity is one of many churches that provide on-site shelter for the homeless during the winter months. Provisions for food, shelter, simple toiletries and basic clothing such as socks, underwear, hats and gloves are given to approximately 100 men and women (our neighbors) each season.

Needs: Alternative Christmas Gift Cards will be available at the Room in the Inn display in the Cloister. Make a donation in someone’s honor or memory to this important ministry at Trinity and give them a gift they won’t forget!

Christmas Joy Offering –

A Presbyterian tradition for almost seventy years, providing congregations direct ways of supporting specific causes that help those in need. Fifty percent (50%) of the Christmas Joy Offering is distributed to the Board of Pensions for assistance programs that provide support to retired and active church workers, their spouses and families. The other 50% supports Presbyterian-related racial ethnic education through the National Ministries Division of the General Assembly Council.

Needs: Joy Offering envelopes will be available in the pew racks and in the Cloister.

Thank you in advance for your generosity and supporting this Trinity ministry year after year.
